

FCC Comment: Do Not Discontinue TITLE TWO "Net Neutrality"

As an American Consumer, I am strongly in favor of maintaining the regulations in place. Without these regulations, the consumers of a vital utility like the Internet - something I personally require for my work - would have their bills skyrocket for subpar services.

I have a website that would have next to no traffic if ISPs could create a multilane Internet. Free services would disappear because of the premiums ISPs would charge businesses online. There is no strong argument to repeal this regulation. Innovation would perish if we allowed the Internet to be controlled by the (ever-shrinking number of) ISPs.

Do not move forward without knowing you are personally dismantling the freedom of information that has made the Internet the engine for Democracy in our age.

- Kyle Gisburne, Saint Louis, Missouri.

Kgisburne94@gmail.com

6362219362

(Do not contact this number or the email with advertising)